If you already have a file called "Cursor" on the desktop, delete it. I was able to successfully transfer the icon, however, I had some problems with the "encoder." I failed to know the possibility of that. I tried one of the method you suggested, but it did not help. If you want to see your problem as clearer I would like to put a report. I have formatted, and if necessary I'll upgrade, if it's necessary I'll try to but I'll not do it to disable any error, if this error prevents Windows from booting, I'll try to use the support CD to repair the system, in the meantime I asked you to explain me how to change the color of the cursor. Thank you for your attention, I hope I have been useful to your answers, Regards, Please if you could send me an e-mail with the subject "xda-developers email", as there I can put it in the post. Thank you for the input. It appears that this problem is caused by some System. PS: To me for today, in the topic, the problem of the cursor on the screen appears, but I will consider to update the question as soon as I have more information about it, and I ask you then, again, for your help, as you have been a very useful support for my friends, as for me. For a general user, such as myself, looking for a solution to this problem, I have received a post from , who, after sending it to me, indicated that it was necessary to contact his support in order to solve my problem. I have not tried yet his solution. If it turns out that my problem can be solved by this post, I'll do it, and I will notify you. If it does not turn out to be the case, I'll indicate that by posting on this site. I have also asked about the colors of the cursor in my home, where I have the problem, and to come to you, on which I usually pass in the background because the problem has not occurred yet. Thank you for your help

Windows Themes Software Review: Windows Themes Review By Brothersoft: Windows Themes is a great Windows 7 and Windows 8 theme designed for Windows users who wants an easy and straightforward way to change the look of their PC. Windows Themes is easy to install and configure, and comes with a variety of pre-designed themes you can download and install. The best thing about Windows Themes is that it also comes with a lot of great customization tools that enable you to create a really user-friendly look for your personal desktop.

Windows Themes is compatible with Windows 7 and Windows 8, although it's not designed exclusively for these two Windows versions. It can also be used with the Windows 10 operating system, which Windows 10 has available in its developer preview version. The website of the Windows Themes developer is relatively simple, and it does not contain any valuable information. This should at least make you a bit suspicious, and you should be wary of what you are installing.
