I need to filter out anything that is not related to videos from every single site. At this point, I have tried: `SqlCommand search = "SELECT TOP 10 * FROM Sites WHERE CONTAINS(Content,'youtube') ORDER BY id DESC ";` That's not the problem, it just seems to give me only videos on my site. I have also tried to do it like this: `SqlCommand search = "SELECT * FROM Sites WHERE Content LIKE '%youtube%' ";` With that I get all video from all sites. Also when I want to filter out just videos on my site I try to make it like this: `SqlCommand search = "SELECT TOP 10 * FROM Sites WHERE CONTAINS(Content,'youtube') ORDER BY id DESC AND ID=2 ORDER BY id DESC ";` I also try to use: `SqlCommand search = "SELECT TOP 10 * FROM Sites WHERE Content LIKE '%youtube%' AND ID=2 ";` I'm not sure what to do, to get the videos I want. A: You could use the below query. This SQL will give you the videos which are present in your website only `SELECT * FROM Sites WHERE Content LIKE '%youtube%' AND Site_ID=2` However, if you want you can also get all the websites which are present in your database which has videos `SELECT * FROM Sites WHERE Content LIKE '%youtube%'` If you are looking to get all the videos which are present in all the websites then this will fetch you all the rows. However, you may want to restrict them on the basis of the condition you have mentioned in your question

Single-molecule investigation of translocation dynamics of DNA. We present a theoretical study of microscopic physical and chemical dynamics of DNA translocation through nanopores. The methodology used is single molecule statistical fluctuation analysis. We address the subtle features of the detailed dynamics as a function of external, internal, and environmental conditions. We discuss the possible sources of experimental uncertainty, and illustrate how to distinguish between them. The formalism presented allows a microscopic description of a wide range of phenomena occurring during electrophoresis of DNA and its manipulation.
