A: You should start your post with your question and try to explain it in a clearer way. Also, you have to compare the file names in the ZIP. Not the contents. If it is a file, one of the files will match. If it is a folder, the contents will match. If the files inside the ZIP doesn't match, the ZIP is corrupted and you should not use it. You should ask the person who shared it with you to send you a new one. You can use any third party tool to check it. WinRAR, 7Zip, Winzip, Stuffit, WinZip... any of them should do the trick. If the ZIP matches and does match with one of the files that you have, your question should be answered if you can tell which one it is.
